C. P. Catron, cashier of the Merwin Bank, spent Sunday in Butler.

Our good friend Geo. M. McKissick orders THE TIMES to B. L. Pickett, at Schell City, Mo.

Dr. A. L. Ludwick, of Memphis, Tenn., is spending a vacation with relatives and friends in Butler.

The Mrs. Moss, who was killed by her husband at Joplin last week, an account of which we publish in another column, was a niece of T. C. Copeland, of this city.

Mrs. Z. J. Williams and daughter Miss Lottie, and son Master Wilber, have returned from their visit to relatives and friends in Illinois, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Our highly respected old friend C. N. Teeter, of Ballard, made us a very pleasant call on Monday while in the city on business and renewed for THE TIMES. He reports the farmers catching up with their work, but needing rain in his locality.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wolf complimented THE TIMES' sanctum on Tuesday morning, and Mrs. W. renewed her father, G. M. Tye's subscription. He was formerly a prominent citizen of the west part of this county, now living in Cass county.

THE TIMES is in receipt of a renewal from our former citizen and good friend W. S. DeBolt, living at Altona, Kan. He is another one of those trustworthy gentlemen who is always prompt to make glad the printer. He is a good man and as reliable a democrat as ever lived.

The TIMES has few better friends and regard none more highly than D. Van Hoy, that sterling democrat and substantial citizen of Deepwater. He seldom lets his subscription run a day over due before renewing. He dropped in for that purpose on Monday and also had THE TIMES sent for one year to his brother-in-law, Claud Raybourn, at Ponca, Okla.

Rev. Inlow, who had been attending the Southern Baptist Convention at Louisville, Ky., last week, returned last Friday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Inlow and children, who had been visiting relatives and friends near La Grange.—Harrisonville Democrat.

W. W. Morlan of Ulrich, has purchased the residence property of Dr. Edmonston, on East Spring street. It is a beautiful location and when Mr. Morlan has made the contemplated improvements, it will be one of the handsomest homes in the city. The trade was negotiated through Chadd & Haggard.—El Dorado Sun.

Our old and highly respected farmer friend G. W. Moles, of the Altona neighborhood, complimented us pleasantly and substantially, as has been his custom for many years. He came to Bates county from Kentucky just after the war, and by his pure and upright life, has won the confidence and high regard of all his neighbors.

Our reliable friend P. M. Famuliner dropped in to pay his respects and his subscription. He is as prompt as the seasons and flatters us with the opinion that we are publishing a good paper. He is renting out his large, fine farm and says he is trying to take life easy. He has worked hard in his day and has a competence to justify him in such a course.

The following parody on "I Don't Like You Any More" is going the rounds of the papers, does not apply to our Butler merchants: "We don't want to buy at your place, we won't go there any more; you'll be sorry when you see us going to some other store. You can't sell us any stale goods, we've opened wide our eyes; we don't want to trade at your store because you don't advertise."

Wm. Page and family left the last of the week for Monett, Mo., where they expect to make their home. Mr. Page was one of the first settlers of Butler; has lived here continuously since the close of the war, was well liked and highly respected by everyone. He was a lawyer of ability, but never devoted much time to the active practice, but looked after his real estate interests and the feeding of cattle. He was one of the kindest and best neighbors we ever knew and THE TIMES regretted very much that he and his excellent family left our city.

Prof. Starr went to Jefferson City Sunday night.

John Bosma traded his stock of groceries to Kash Bros., of Johnston, and they have moved them to that place.

Dr. J. C. Biggs, a prominent and successful druggist at Hume, was in the city the last of the week on business and favored us pleasantly. He reports his town prospering and the farmers in that locality well up with their work considering the backward spring.

The School Board, at its meeting last Saturday night, laid over the election of a superintendent for one week. Prof. W. E. Welch was elected in place of Prof. Beeson; Miss Hedrick, of Appleton City, in place of Miss Burns, resigned; Miss DeJarnett, of Lamar, in place of Miss Lelia Starke. All the other teachers were re-elected.

Don't fail to see Dr. Hughes, who is representing the Dr. E. O. Smith Sanitarium Co., if you are troubled with any rectal trouble. He can cure you. He will be at the Cottage Hotel June 8th, 9th and 10th. Don't put off seeing him as he may not be here again for some time. Read their advertisement on another page.

Our good republican friend, D. M. Anderson, than whom no better man resides in the county, who owns a fine farm near Mulberry, made us a very pleasant call and renewed. He complimented us very highly when he said he had lived in a number of states since his majority and always took his county paper, and the TIMES is the best one he ever read.

Miss Alice McLain, who has just completed a successful term of school at Pleasant Gap, has accepted the Willow Branch school for the next season. In company with Miss Whipple she complimented the TIMES sanctum and after renewing ordered her paper changed to Kansas City, where she will spend her vacation. She gives the very best of satisfaction wherever she teaches and is ranked among the very best lady teachers in the county.

Enos Vaughan, formerly of New Home township, now a prosperous farmer of county "O" in Oklahoma, gave us a pleasant call while in the city Tuesday. He had been spending three weeks in Bates visiting old friends and was on his way home. He said wheat harvesting would begin the first of June, about a month earlier than here. Said prospects for that cereal is good. Quite a number of former Bates county citizens live in his locality and all are prospering and like that country.

Sheriff Mudd went to Altona Saturday and arrested Thomas Blaton and brought him to Butler and lodged him in jail. He is wanted in connection with the Edwards-Shafer tragedy. It is charged that he witnessed the shooting from the timber close by. The grass and brush where he claimed to have stood when the shooting occurred, showed evidences of being well tramped, as if he had been there for some time. He went off home without showing himself at the time. He claimed to have been out hunting, but parties who know his habits discredit this statement, say it was too early in the morning.

Master Ernest Truex and Miss Helen Fairlamb, juvenile stars, respectively 9 and 8 years of age, gave an entertainment at the Butler opera house on Thursday evening to a fair sized audience. They certainly fulfilled every promise that was made for them, and were marvels to the audience. Leading parts in Shakespeare's plays were rendered by them in a manner that would have done credit to old and experienced actors. Master Truex is the son of Dr. Truex of Rich Hill, and certainly gives promise, with the proper education and training, of being a great actor. Little Miss Fairlamb is a precocious child and a wonder on the stage considering her age.

Strawberries are plentiful and fine and sell very reasonable.

New potatoes have been selling at 30 cents per gallon.

Mrs. Tom Brogues died at her home in the east part of town Sunday evening. The remains were taken to Nebraska for interment on Tuesday. She left two small children.

J. M. Pulliam, a successful farmer and most excellent gentleman, living in Deer Creek township, was transacting business in Butler on Wednesday and favored us substantially.

Ex circuit clerk Stewart Atcheson leaves this week for Colorado to spend the summer. He will visit Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Cripple Creek.

Wm. F. Duvall and wife returned from Texas on Tuesday where they had been for her health. Their many friends will be grieved to learn that Mrs. Duvall is very low, with but slight chances of recovery.

Harry Wolfe the young operator held up and robbed at the Webb City passenger depot one night last week, is an old Rich Hill boy, having been born and raised in that town, where his father C. R. Wolfe, now resides.

A disastrous and fatal cyclone passed across the country in the vicinity of Bijou Hills, South Dakota, Sunday, killing seven people and doing considerable damage to property.

The funeral of N. D. Walden took place from the family residence, on Mill street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased was quite an old gentleman and had been afflicted for a long time.

It is said 10,000 pickers will be required to gather the strawberry crop at Sarcexie, Mo., this season, and it is expected 200 car loads will be shipped from that point. Pickers are paid one and a half cents per quart.

Jewell's sermon is spoken of as being a very able effort.
